W. P. BACON KILLED.

Some Suppose it to Be Suicide.

W. P. Bacon, commonly known as Billie Bacon, son of Mr. Wilson's Bacon, was killed, at Union City, Friday night, by being run over by a railroad engine. His head was completely severed from his body and one leg cut off. One theory was that he thought he was attempting to board a train to return to his home, and being under the influence of drink, missed his step and fell under the moving engine. Another theory was that he intentionally thus brought about his own death. It is known that once before he was found lying on the railroad track, and it was thought was there for the purpose of ending his life. This, with the fact, a few days since, it is known, that he said to a companion that he contemplated ending his life supports the suicide theory.

Billie Bacon was a popular, kindhearted, generous young man, and every body liked him, with the one misfortune of sometimes drinking too much, and with this exception, was excellent in all his characteristics. The whole community is deeply grieved over his untimely end.

He was buried in the Shick home burial grounds, Sunday, Elder Reynolds, of Union City, conducting the burial services.

NEGROES ALARMED

Last Saturday a row occurred at the home of Linda Jackson, colored, and that night her house was destroyed by fire. Some of the negroes believe that the house was set on fire by some white people; and the report was also obtained that the colored people have been ordered to leave town. It was said by some of the colored people that the order to "leave town" was published in the Hickman Courier. This was a mistake; no such order was published, and there is no such order contemplated. There was a communication published suggesting the enforcement of the "vagrancy laws" against certain people without visible means of support, and who persistently refused employment. No wholesale order is contemplated. The publishing was more than merely friendly toward that element of colored people who are willing and trying to do something for themselves.

Hon. R. T. T. was in Paducah this week looking after some cases in the Federal Court.

FOUND IN AN OLD STUMP.

Original Manuscript of the Book of Mormon is Discovered in Illinois.

Considerable excitement has been created recently in southern Illinois over a discovery made by Marshall Perrod, who lives on a farm close to the village of Danola, in Union county, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. Perrod, in digging a black stump out of a potato field, close to his residence, found a stone which was about a foot long and eight inches in diameter. The peculiar shape of the stone, which resembled a pocketbook, attracted his attention, and upon close examination he found carved on its face in English the following words: "This stone contains the original manuscript of the book of the Mormon."

The ravages of time had apparently made little headway on the stone, and upon close examination he found the stone was hollow. A hole had been drilled entirely through it, and at both ends red cedar plugs had been driven. Upon removing one of the plugs, several sheets of paper, containing writing in hieroglyphics that could not be deciphered, were found. The characters are peculiar, following no known line of ancient writing.

At the bottom of the last page was found written in English: "The first of this manuscript will deliver the same to the elders of the Mormon church." The stone Joseph Smith, Mr. Perrod, and already communication has been made with the Salt Lake church, giving the incidents of the find. It is thought the Mormon church will take steps at once to secure the stone and also the manuscript.

ARRESTS AT PARIS FAIR.

Police Report Also Tells of Strange Articles Found in the Grounds of the Exposition.

The exposition police report, just out, shows a total of 15,097 arrests on the fair grounds. The causes are thus divided, says the Chicago Tribune:

Murder, 4; murderousomania, 115; crimes against morals, 363; minor assaults, 1,191; defecating, property, 607; theft, 1,403.

Strangers arrested were 1,169. Of these 34 were Americans, except one from each other nation, except Denmark and Poland, which had one each. The total number of articles found and turned over to the police was 56,750 in all; money, which never was claimed; more than 400 unclaimed fair tickets, 255 single tickets, 22 unclaimed newspaper or otherwise, three burglar's kits, five crosses of the Legion of Honor, 11 foreign decorations, one pair of lady's russet slippers, only slightly used, and many other queer articles.

The museum, with the exception of what may be claimed before May 1, will be sold at auction for the benefit of charity.

QUEER ACCIDENTS TO GUNS.

Shells on a British Battleship That Caused Fear Among the Crew.

While the British battleship Thunderer was off Milford Haven, Wales, not long ago a curious accident to one of her guns caused much alarm among her crew. A target had been put out for practice with the ten-inch breech-loading gun. When one was fired by accident only a portion of the projectile was discharged, the base plate of the shot and a portion of the frame being left in the gun. When the plate was removed the pressure of gas forced a portion of the projectile from the breech of the gun. On the second gun being fired a hole about three inches in diameter was blown through the projectile, the other part of the base plate being left behind. The base plate was in this case separated from the rest of the projectile.

Such accidents are believed never previously to have occurred on board any ship. There was much alarm among those in the turret, as the bursting of the gun was for a time feared. It is suggested that either the powder in the projectile was damp or there was water in the gun. So far as can be seen both guns are sound.

Out-of-Door Primer.

An exchange suggests the following questions for a new primer. The questions may be answered even in hot weather.

"See the corn in the field. Can the corn walk?"

"No the corn stalks."

"See the pretty cake. Does the cake stalk?"

"Never. But you should see a cake walk."

"I have a rope. Can the rope walk?"

"Yes, if it is taut."

"The hen is in the garden. Does the hen rise?"

"No the hen sets."

"The mercury is in the tube. Will the mercury set?"

"No my child. Wait until July and see."

If the News wants to fire its "war shot" into the air, and never let us know anything about it, why, we cannot blame you and leave it to you.

Chairman Alexander and seven members of the committee did not attend the meeting. PLAIN ISSUE.

In the European discussion of the effect on international trade of the formation of the Steel Trust in this country with a capitalization of $1,000,000,000 there are some points brought out which are decidedly interesting to Americans who must pay tribute to this behemoth company.

Especially so is the assertion made by Mr. T. Putnam, managing director of the Darlington Forge Company of England. "The trusts," says Mr. Putnam, "can only afford us a false way, by reason of exceptional advantages granted them by the tariff. In America they may make huge profits, and utilize them to dump down material in this country at less than cost."

Can you figure out how this "protection of an infant industry" capitalized for $1,000,000,000—the heaviest single capitalization in the world—is accomplishing anything beyond the enriching of the Steel Trust magnates at the bitter cost of the American people? The "huge profits" which the trust makes out of the American trade—helpless because of the crushing of competition by the tariff—come directly out of the pockets of consumers in this country. It is a monstrous tax that is utterly indefensible. The protective system under which the tax is levied is itself the creator of the trust system. The vital principle of the trust idea is that of a protected monopoly which shall hold the American people at its mercy.
